INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE & POLICY

The Fund aims to preserve principal value and to maintain a high degree of liquidity while generating a higher rate of return as compared to Hong Kong dollar personal saving deposits. The Fund invests primarily in short term, high quality money market instruments, debt securities and deposits. Such investments may include HKD-denominated and USD-denominated government and corporate bonds, commercial bills and paper, certificates of deposit and deposits with financial institutions.

The Manager will invest at least 70% of the Fund's NAV in HKD-denominated investments. The Fund will maintain a portfolio with weighted average maturity not exceeding 60 days and a weighted average life not exceeding 120 days. The Manager may utilize financial derivative instruments ("FDIs") for hedging purpose only.

The Fund's approach to enhancing returns is to diversify across assets types of varying tenure. The Manager believes that the use of other short term and high quality money market instruments and debt securities, which are normally available to large investors, will help to enhance returns for investors.
